

Associate Professor of Statistics Acting Head of Insurance, Mathematics and Statistics Department

ABOUT ME	I am an Associate Professor of statistics with a background on mathematics, theoretical statistics, Bayesian statistics, time series analysis, machine learning, software quality attributes forecasting and statistical programming, along with excellent academic and research experiences. I always learn new things in the data science field, and I love working with researchers and data scientists at the global level.

RESEARCH INTERESTS	Time Series Forecasting, Predictive Modelling, Machine Learning, Big Data Analytics, Sequential Analysis, Statistical Composite Indicators, Statistical Process Control, Quantitative Analysis of Quality Attributes, and Software Performance and Reliability Forecasting.
EDUCATION	I. Ph.D. in Information Technology and Statistics (April 2010 - January 2014); Faculty of Science, Engineering, and Technology (FSET), Swinburne University of Technology, Australia. [Ph.D. degree equivalency in Statistics from Egyptian Universities.] <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Thesis Topic: Automated Statistical Forecasting for Quality Attributes of Web Services• Supervisor: Prof. Lars Grunske & Dr. Alan Colman• Area of Study: Quantitative Analysis for Quality Attributes of Software Systems• Thesis Abstract: This study proposes a collection of automated forecasting approaches for quality of service (QoS) attributes of Web services. Each one of these approaches is able to fit and forecast a specific type of QoS stochastic characteristics, however, taken together they will be able to fit different dynamic behaviors of QoS attributes and forecast their future values. In particular, the thesis proposes an automated forecasting approach for nonlinearly dependent QoS attributes, two automated forecasting approaches for linearly dependent QoS attributes with volatility clustering, and two automated forecasting approaches for nonlinearly dependent QoS attributes with volatility clustering. The accuracy and performance of the proposed forecasting approaches are evaluated and compared to those of the baseline ARIMA time series models using real-world QoS datasets of Web services characterized by nonlinearity and volatility clustering. The evaluation results show that each one of the proposed forecasting approaches outperforms the baseline ARIMA models. II. M.Sc. in Statistics with excellent degree (October 2006 - October 2009); Faculty of Economics and Political Science (FEPS), Cairo University, Egypt. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Thesis Topic: Bayesian Inference for Seasonal ARMA Models: A Gibbs Sampling Approach• Supervisor: Prof. Mohamed Ismail & Prof. Emad Soliman• Area of Study: Bayesian Time Series Analysis• Thesis Abstract: This study develops a Bayesian inference for multiplicative seasonal ARMA model by implementing a fast, easy and accurate MCMC Gibbs sampling algorithm. The proposed algorithm does not involve any Metropolis-Hastings generation but is generated from normal and inverse gamma distributions. The proposed algorithm is illustrated using simulated examples and real datasets. III. Pre-M.Sc. (M.Sc Preparatory Year, September 2006 - July 2007); FEPS, Cairo University, Egypt. Main courses of this year include: <ul style="list-style-type: none">- Theory of Statistics- Time Series Analysis (Classical and Bayesian)- Advanced Mathematics- Robust Regression Diagnostics- Advanced Econometrics- Biostatistics and Demography <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Grade: Very Good

IV. B.Sc. in Statistics and Social Science Computing (September 2002 - July 2006);
FEPS, Cairo University, Egypt.

- Grade: excellent with honor degree
- Major Specialization: Statistics
- Minor Specialization: Social Science Computing

AWARDS

- I. Association for Computing Machinery (ACM), USA
- WOSP/SIPEW International Conference on Performance Engineering Support Travel Grant (ICPE, 2012), is the SIG Travel Grant for the students/researchers.
- II. Swinburne University of Technology, Australia
- Chancellors Research Scholarship (CRS, 2009), is the Swinburne University's premier research award.

EXPERIENCE

Faculty of Commerce, Menoufia University, Egypt May 2007 - Present

Associate Professor & Acting Head of Statistics Department October 2020 - Present

Assistant Professor September 2015 - October 2020

Teaching Assistant May 2007 - April 2010

- Associate Professor in Department of Statistics, and courses I have been teaching for undergraduate include:
 - Applied Mathematics
 - Applied Statistics
 - Operations Research
 - Principles of Statistics
 - Pure Mathematics
 - Quantitative Analysis
- Courses I have been teaching for Postgraduate include:
 - Advanced Statistics
 - Theory of Statistics
 - Mathematics for Statisticians
 - Demography

Faculty of Management Sciences, MSA University, Egypt February 2015 - June 2022

Part-time Associate Professor October 2020 - June 2022

Part-time Assistant Professor February 2015 - October 2020

- (Part-time) Associate Professor, and the main courses I have been teaching include:
 1. MTH112 Basic Mathematics for Social Sciences.
 2. STAT215 Statistics for Economists I.
 3. STAT16 Statistics for Economists II.

Faculty of Business Administration, Ahram Canadian University, Egypt

Part-time Assistant Professor September 2016 - January 2019

- (Part-time) Assistant Professor, and the main courses I have been teaching include:
 1. BUSGB213 Financial Mathematics.
 2. BUSGB211 Quantitative Analysis.
 3. BUSGB323 Risk Management and Insurance.

Faculty of Science, Engineering, and Technology (FSET), Swinburne University of Technology, Australia April 2010 - February 2017

Adjunct Research Fellow March 2014 - February 2017

PhD Student and Tutor April 2010 - June 2014

- Tutor, and the main courses I have been teaching include:
 1. HMS215 Engineering Mathematics 3C.

2. HMS214 Engineering Mathematics 4B.
3. HMS211M Engineering Mathematics 3M.
4. HES5102/HES5103 Research Project.

Information and Decision Support Center (IDSC), Egyptian Cabinet, Egypt
October 2006 - June 2009

Statistician in Population Program Evaluation Unit April 2007 - June 2009
Statistician in Data Quality Unit October 2006 - April 2007

CONSULTATIONS EXPERIENCE

I deliver statistical consultations for many clients such as regional projects, companies, and postgraduate students in different fields including information technology, social and educational sciences, linguistics, and medicine.

Measurement and Evaluation Project, Menoufia University

Funded by the Ministry of Higher Education November 2018 -April 2021
 - Head of Statistics and Opinion Polls Unit in the project at Faculty of Commerce.

Precision Knowledge for Technical Systems

A company provides various IT services October 2018 - January 2021
 - I have been working as a Data Scientist at this company in order to produce some machine learning-based data products.

Arab Knowledg Indicator (AKI) - 2015

Project funded by United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) & Mohammed Bin Rashid Al Maktoum Knowledge Foundation August 2015 - November 2015
 - My participation in this project was writing a technical paper titled “On Constructing Composite Indicators: Background Paper,” giving all the required background to construct the Arab Knowledge Indicator (AKI) 2015.

Planning [in] Justice Project

A joint effort between Takween Integrated Community Development (in Egypt) and the American University in Washington, D.C. June 2015 - December 2015
 - I was the statistician of this project, proposing and constructing composite indicators to measure multidimensional spatial inequalities.

Consultations for Postgraduate Students

I have been working as a statistical consultant for many PhD studies especially that include surveys as a main component of the thesis. Examples of these PhD studies include:

- Politeness and Requests in Contemporary Arabic: A Case Study of Saudi Women (PhD in Linguistics).
- Analysis of Economic Policies of Foreign Direct Investment (FDI): A case study of Libya (PhD in Economics).
- Adaptive IT Capability and its Impact on the Competitiveness of Firms: A Dynamic Capability Perspective (PhD in Computer Science).
- Hospitalised Children: Reactions of Siblings (PhD in Nursing).

TRAINING EXPERIENCE

I deliver training for many clients such as undergraduate students, postgraduate students, and researchers at governmental and private institutions.

1. Statistics and its role in planning, monitoring and decision-making, Ajman Statistics Center, UAE, 17 - 19 October 2023.
2. Soft skills required to the labor market, Internal summer training at Faculty of Commerce, Menoufia University, Egypt, July - September, 2023.
3. Data science and the labor market, Internal summer training at Faculty of Commerce, Menoufia University, Egypt, July - September, 2022.
4. Future work is digital initiative and the labor market, Internal summer training at Faculty of Commerce, Menoufia University, Egypt, July - September, 2021.
5. Statistical analysis and freelancing, Internal summer training at Faculty of Commerce, Menoufia University, Egypt, July - September, 2020.
6. Econometric and statistical analysis using EViews, Faculty of Economics and Political Science, Cairo University, Egypt, 21 - 25 June 2015.
7. Econometric and statistical analysis using EViews, Faculty of Economics and Political Science, Cairo University, Egypt, 21 - 25 June 2015.
8. Econometric and statistical analysis using EViews, Faculty of Economics and Political Science, Cairo University, Egypt, 14 - 18 June 2015.
9. Econometric and statistical analysis using EViews, Faculty of Economics and Political Science, Cairo University, Egypt, 3 - 7 May 2015.
10. Introduction to research statistics using SPSS, Faculty staff, faculty of agriculture, Menoufia University, Egypt, 24 February 2015
11. Introduction to statistical analysis using SPSS, Saudi Arabian PhD Students Community, Melbourne, Australia, 20 October 2013
12. Introduction to statistical analysis using SPSS, Libyan Students in Australia Community, Melbourne, Australia, 9 September 2012
13. Introduction to statistical analysis using Minitab, undergraduate students, Faculty of Economics and Political Science, Cairo University, Egypt, 9 - 11 January 2010.

PRACTICAL TRAINING IN DATA SCIENCE FIELD I always learn new things in the data science field, and in the following some of my practical training at Coursera and DataCamp (with links to the certificates):

1. Data Science: Foundations using R Specialization @ Coursera
2. Data Scientist with R Track @ DataCamp
3. Developing Data Products @ Coursera
4. Importing & Cleaning Data with R Track @ DataCamp
5. Practical Machine Learning @ Coursera
6. R Programming Track @ DataCamp

TECHNICAL & COMPUTER SKILLS	I. Statistical Programming and Software
	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Julia, especially for scientific computing and Big data analytics. 2. R & Python, especially for Time Series Forecasting, Big data analytics and Machine Learning. 3. MATLAB, especially for Simulation and Numerical Integration. 4. Stata, especially for Demographic and Survival Analysis. 5. EViews, especially for Cointegration, VAR & VECM Analysis. 6. TRAMO/SEATS, especially for Time Series Data with missing observations and outliers. 7. Minitab, especially for Time Series Analysis. 8. SPSS, especially for Descriptive & Basic Statistics.
	II. Text Editors
	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Microsoft Office [Word]. 2. LaTeX. 3. Markdown.
